

Zevi and Miri's Uncle has No work

berlingerart

Zevi and Miri learn about Coronavirus

A Zevi and Miri Book

Written by: C. G. Rand

Layout and Illustration by: Berlingerart, berlingerart@gmail.com

Produced for: Zeh Lozeh – Resolve Now

Reviewed by: Mrs C. Halpern Mechaneches, Yesodey Hatorah School

Endorsed by: The Rabbinate of the Union of Orthodox Hebrew Congregations.

We would like to thank the following people for their generous and knowledgeable input:

Dr Beth Hill- Clinical Psychologist at First Steps, Community CAMHS Homerton

Yvonne Wade- Principal Educational Psychologist at Hackney Learning Trust

All Rights Reserved. This book or parts thereof may not be reproduced in any form, stored in any retrieval system, or transmitted by any form by any means, without prior permission of Zeh Lozeh Resources.

This book is intended as a work of fiction, not intended to give any medical advice or information. If any medical advice is required contact NHS or go to a registered medical professional.

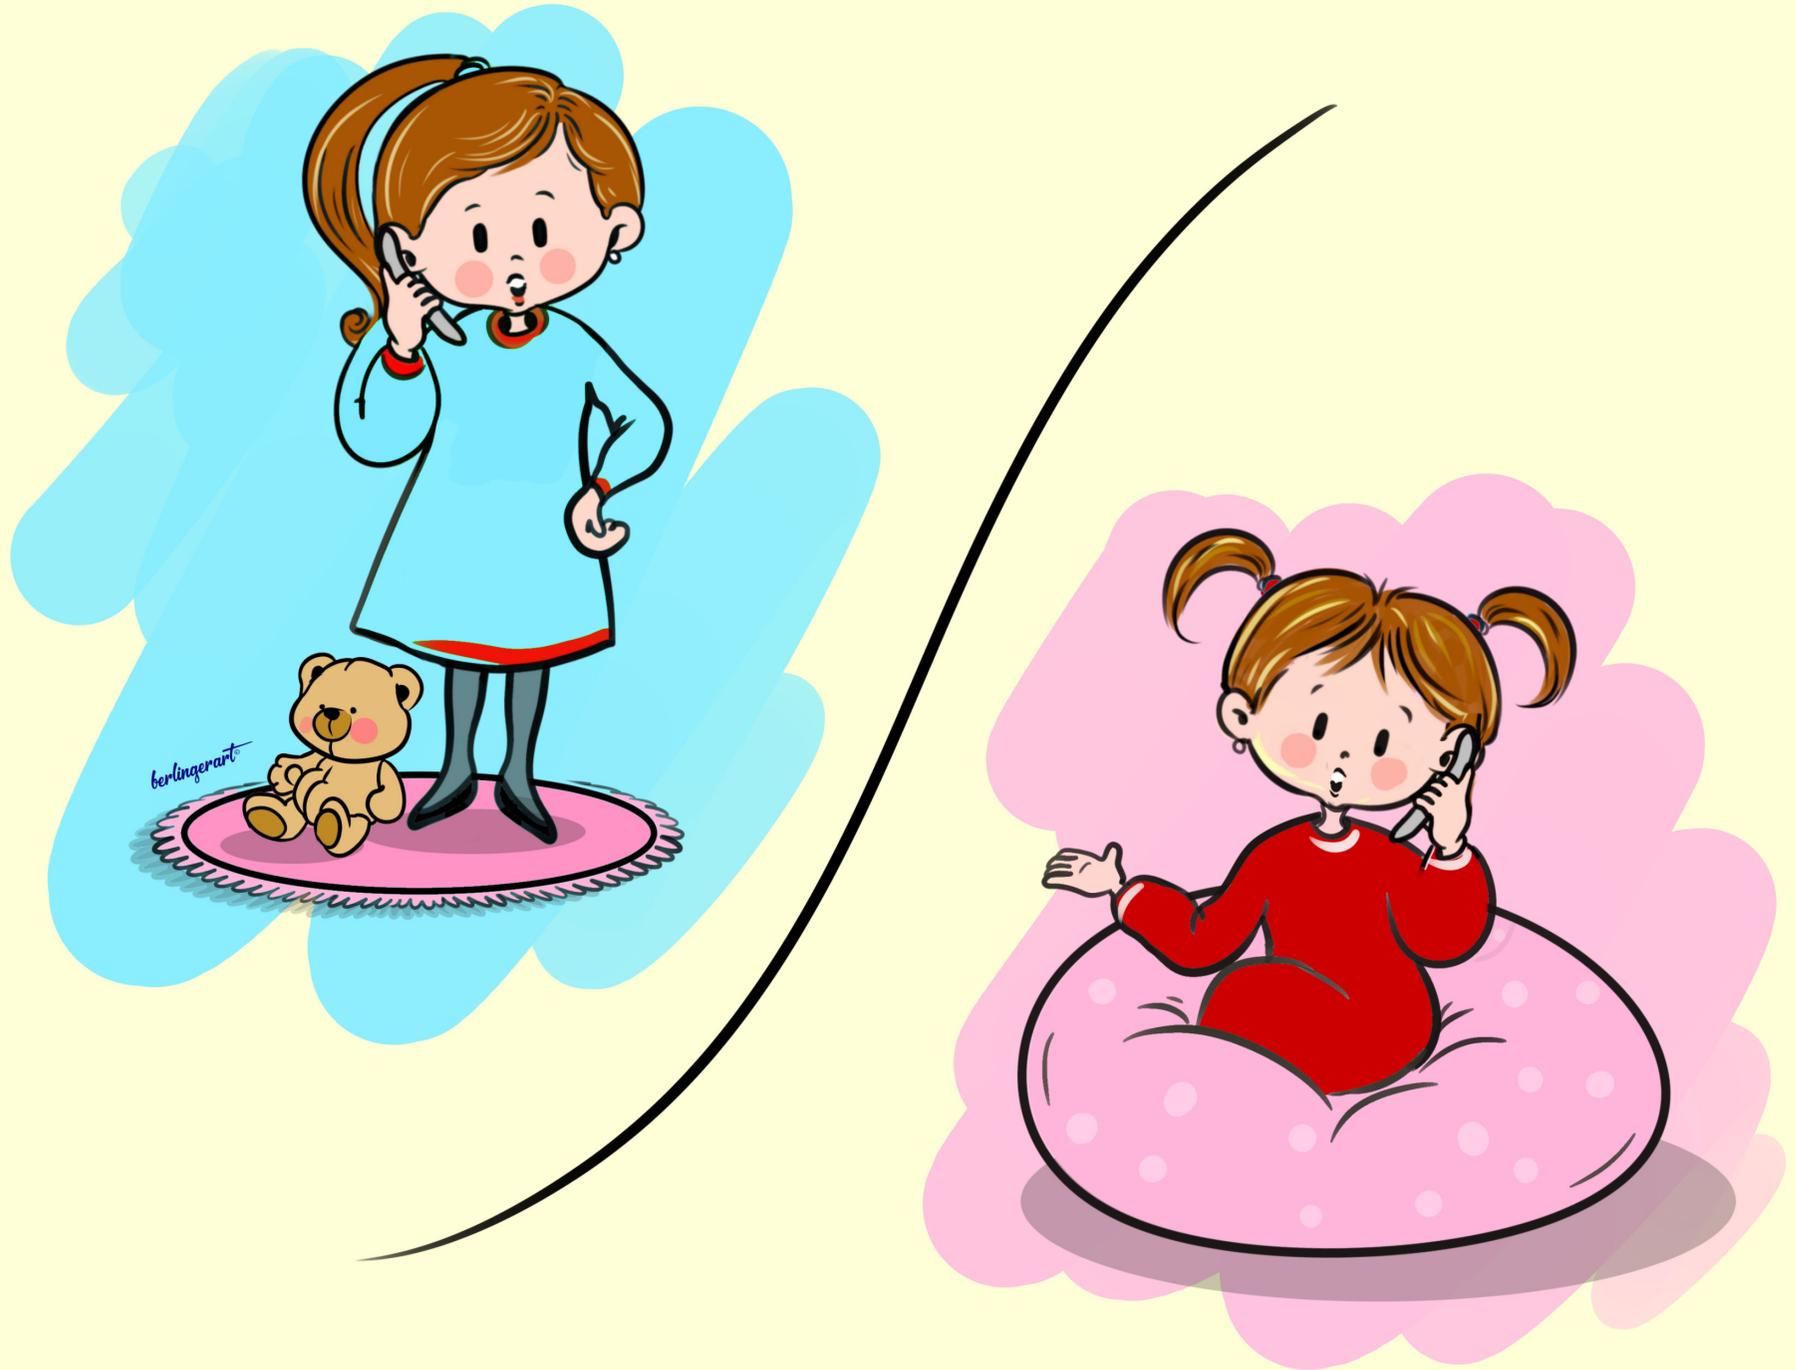

Zeh Lozeh Resources

admin@resolvenow.org.uk

0044 203 728 4323

Registered Charity Number: 1189333

Miri was feeling bored and lonely because there was no school so she called her cousin Rifky who loves to chat. Rifky told Miri that her father lost his job and he doesn't go to work anymore. That means that Rifky's father will not have the same amount of money that he usually has.

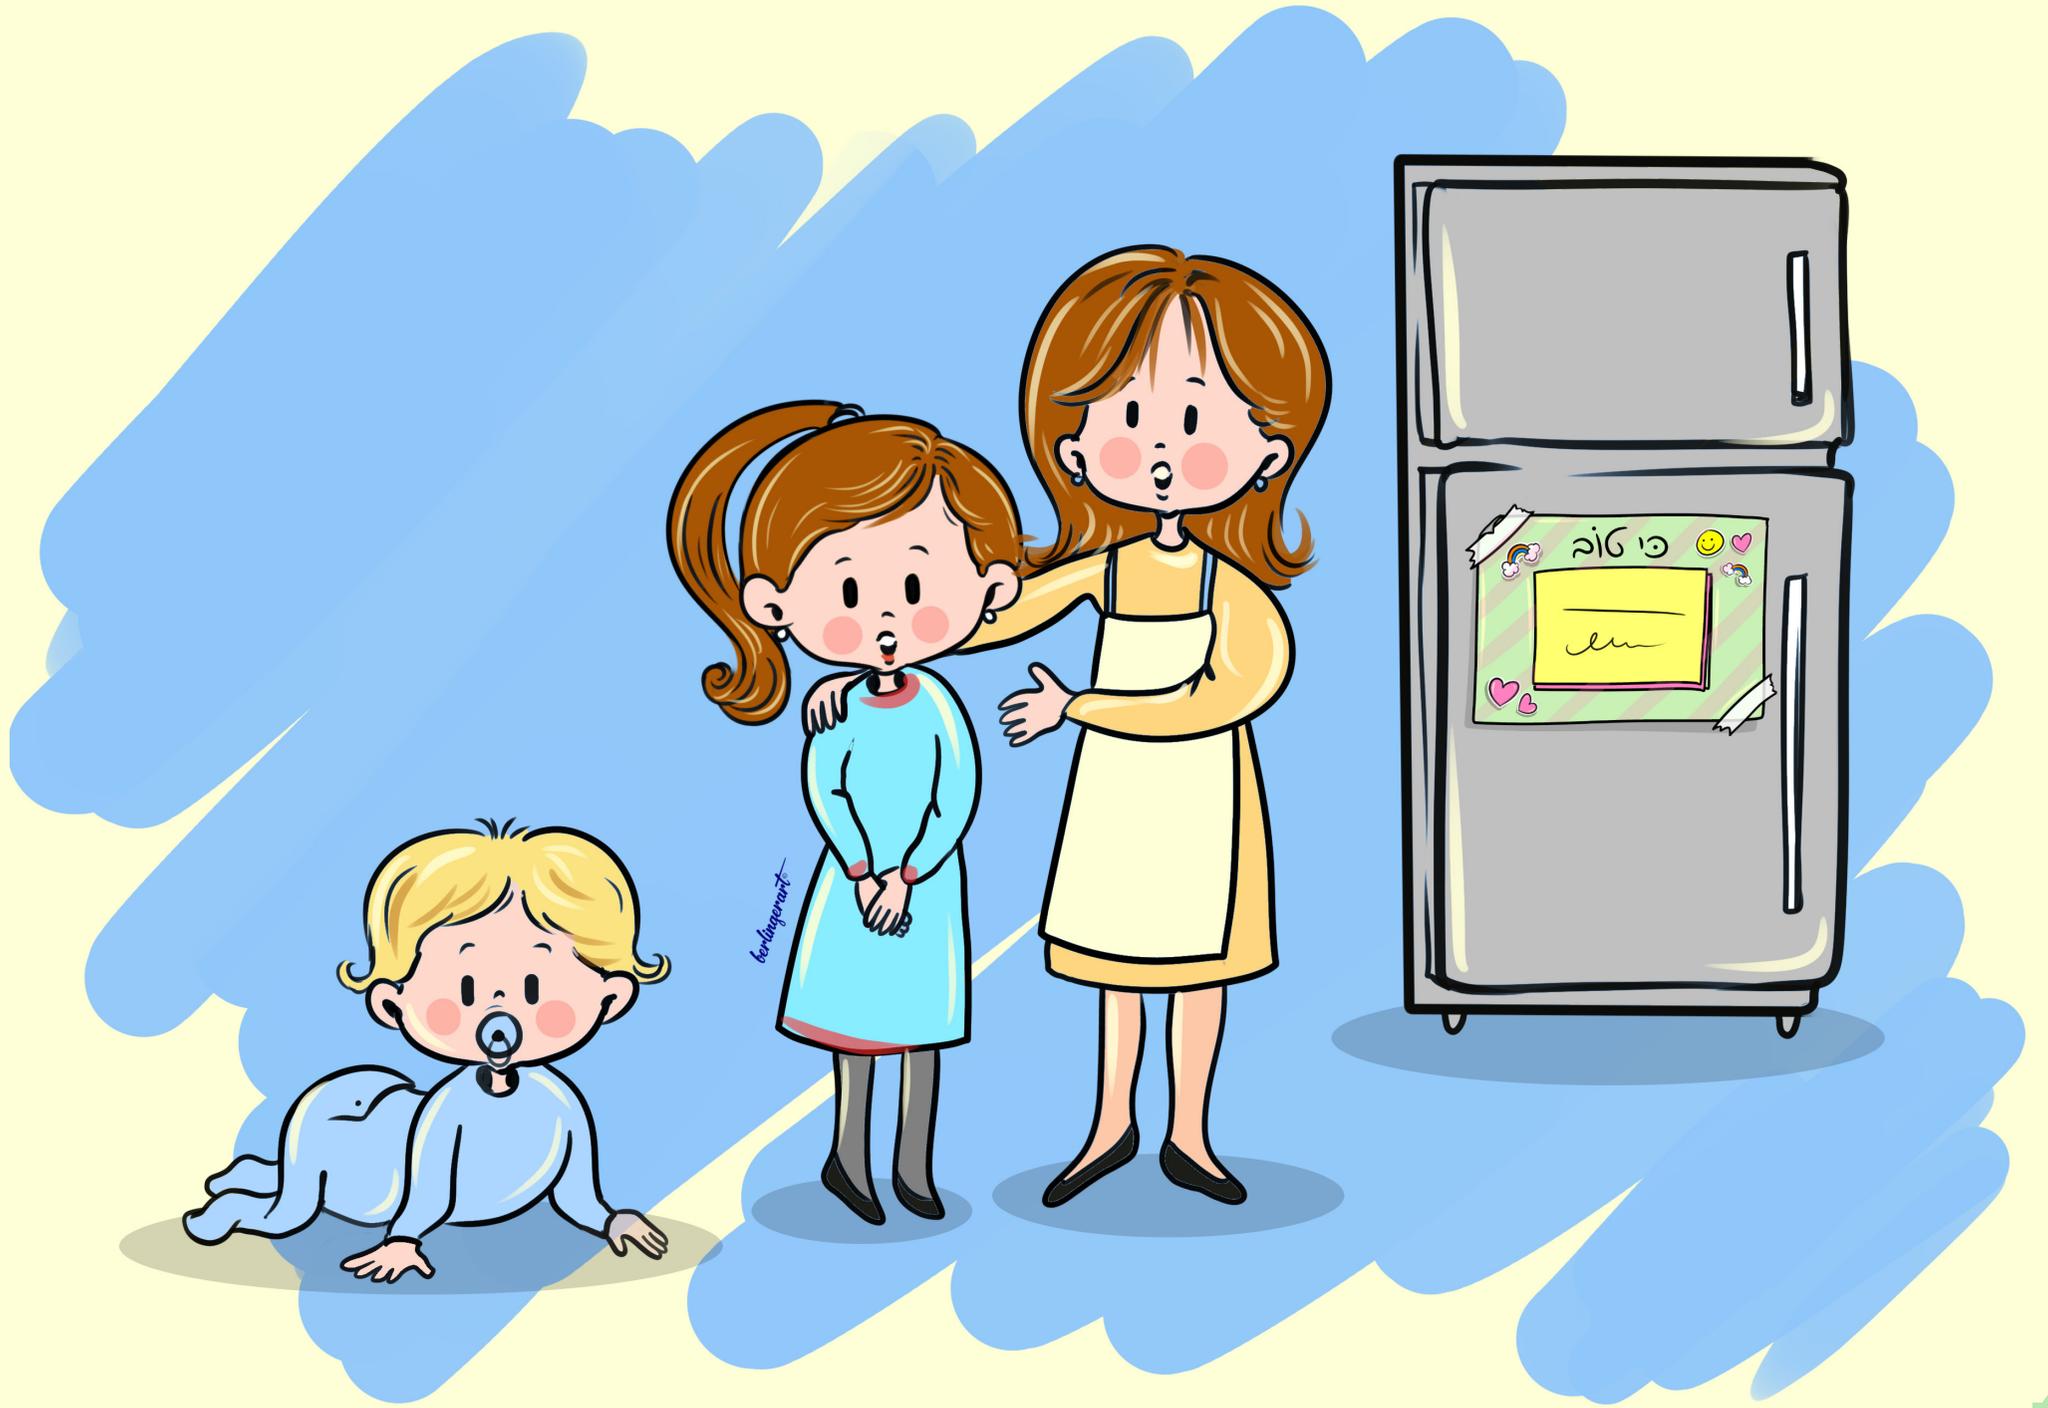

“Wow,” said Miri, “What are you going to do?”

“My mother explained to me that we are not poor,” Rifky answered, “but we do need to be careful and buy only the things we need.”

“Is it very hard for you?” asked Miri.

“Yes, it is hard for us so we started a great project called Project Ki Tov,” Rifky sounded excited.

“What is project Ki-Tov?” asked Miri, “I am really curious.”

Rifky told Miri all the things that her mother had told her. Firstly, how everything that happens is for the best. It is important to remember that Hashem always takes care of us. That’s why we must think about the good things that happen to us each day, and say “Hodu LaShem Ki Tov”. That reminds us to thank Hashem Who loves us and only does good.

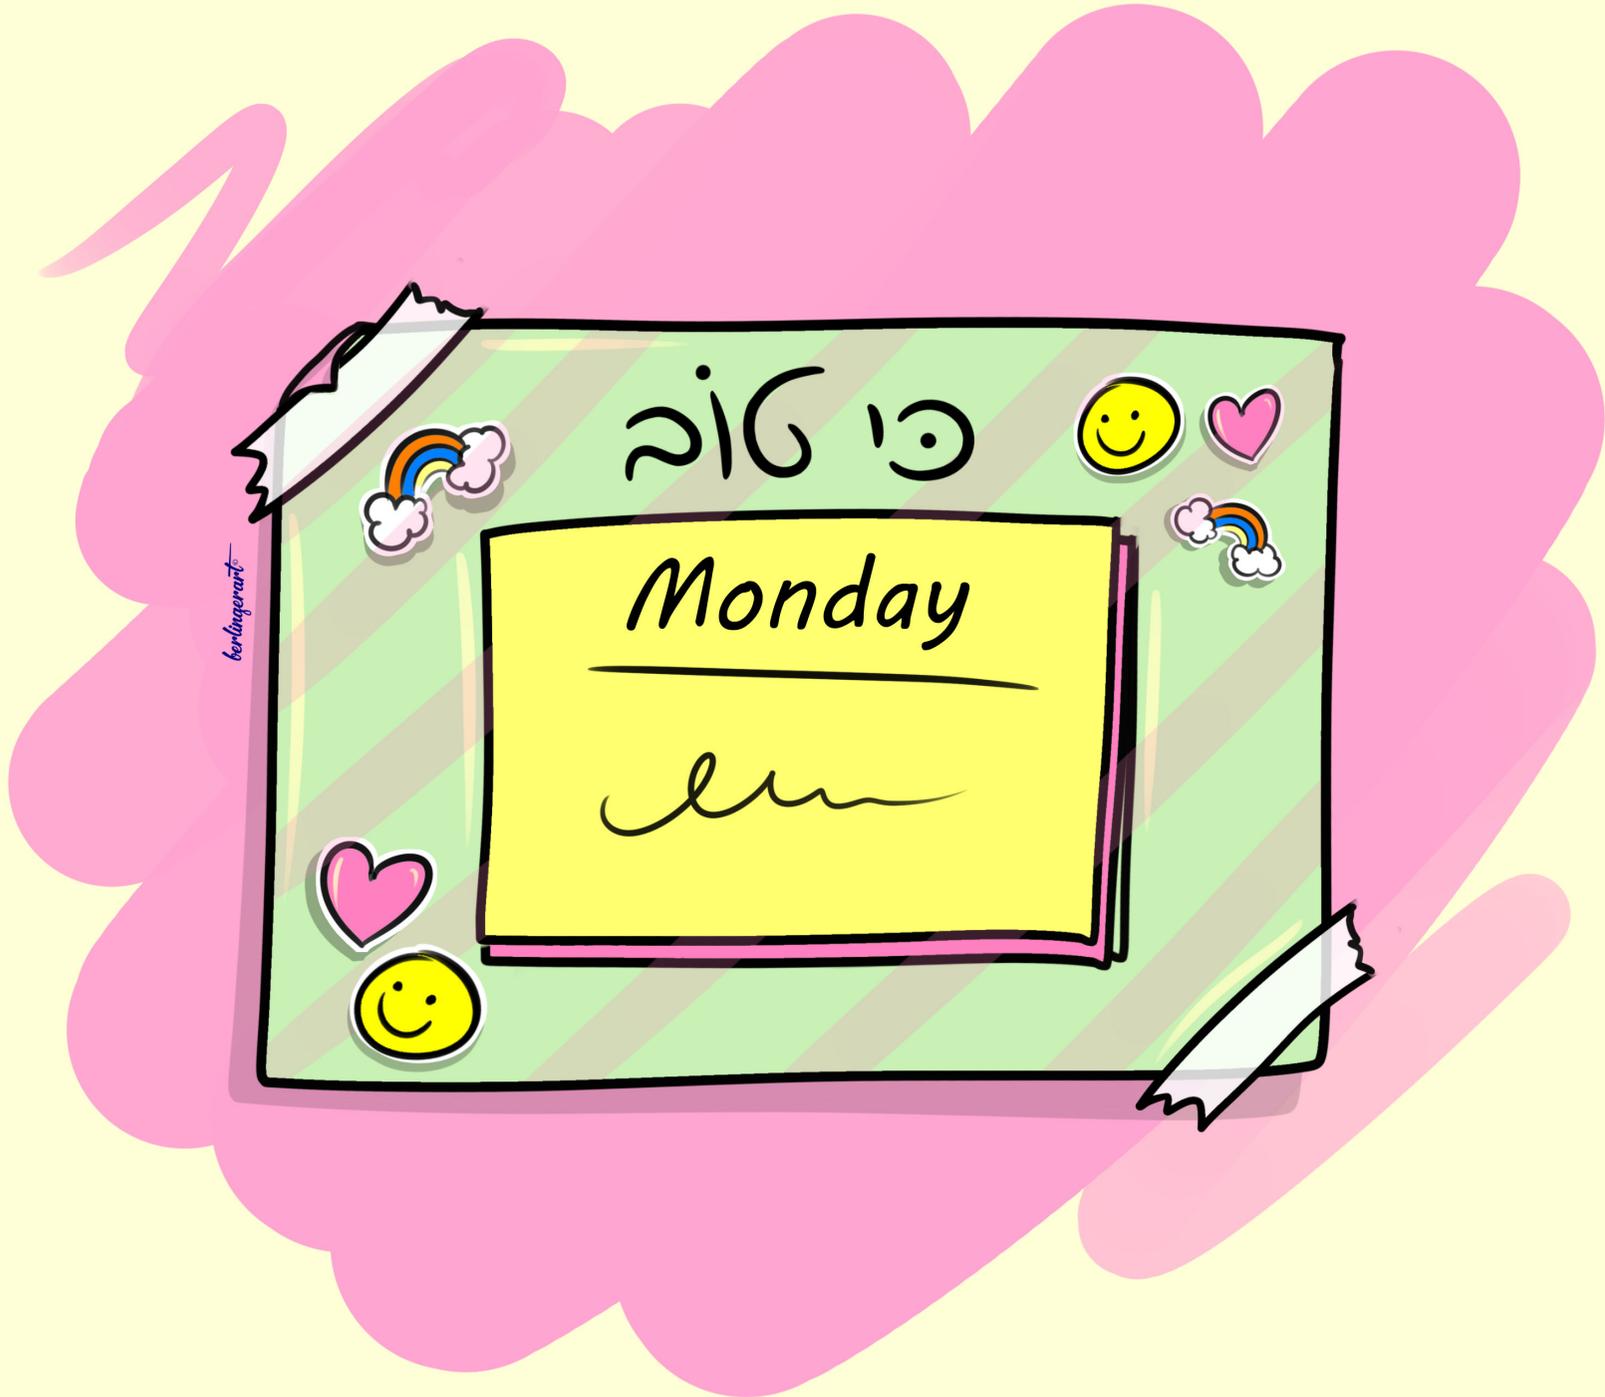

“We love this project. Each day we write down three good things that we are grateful for,” Rifky said happily. “It’s such fun to see who can come up with interesting things.”

When Miri put down the phone she ran downstairs looking for Zevi. Zevi was in the garden. “Oh Zevi, there you are, you must hear all about Project Ki-Tov!” Miri called excitedly. Miri described to Zevi how this project works. “Imagine if all day long we only think about the good that Hashem sends us,” she said eagerly.

Zevi thought for a minute. “Yes! Let’s do this. It sure beats complaining about being bored! Any good ideas?”

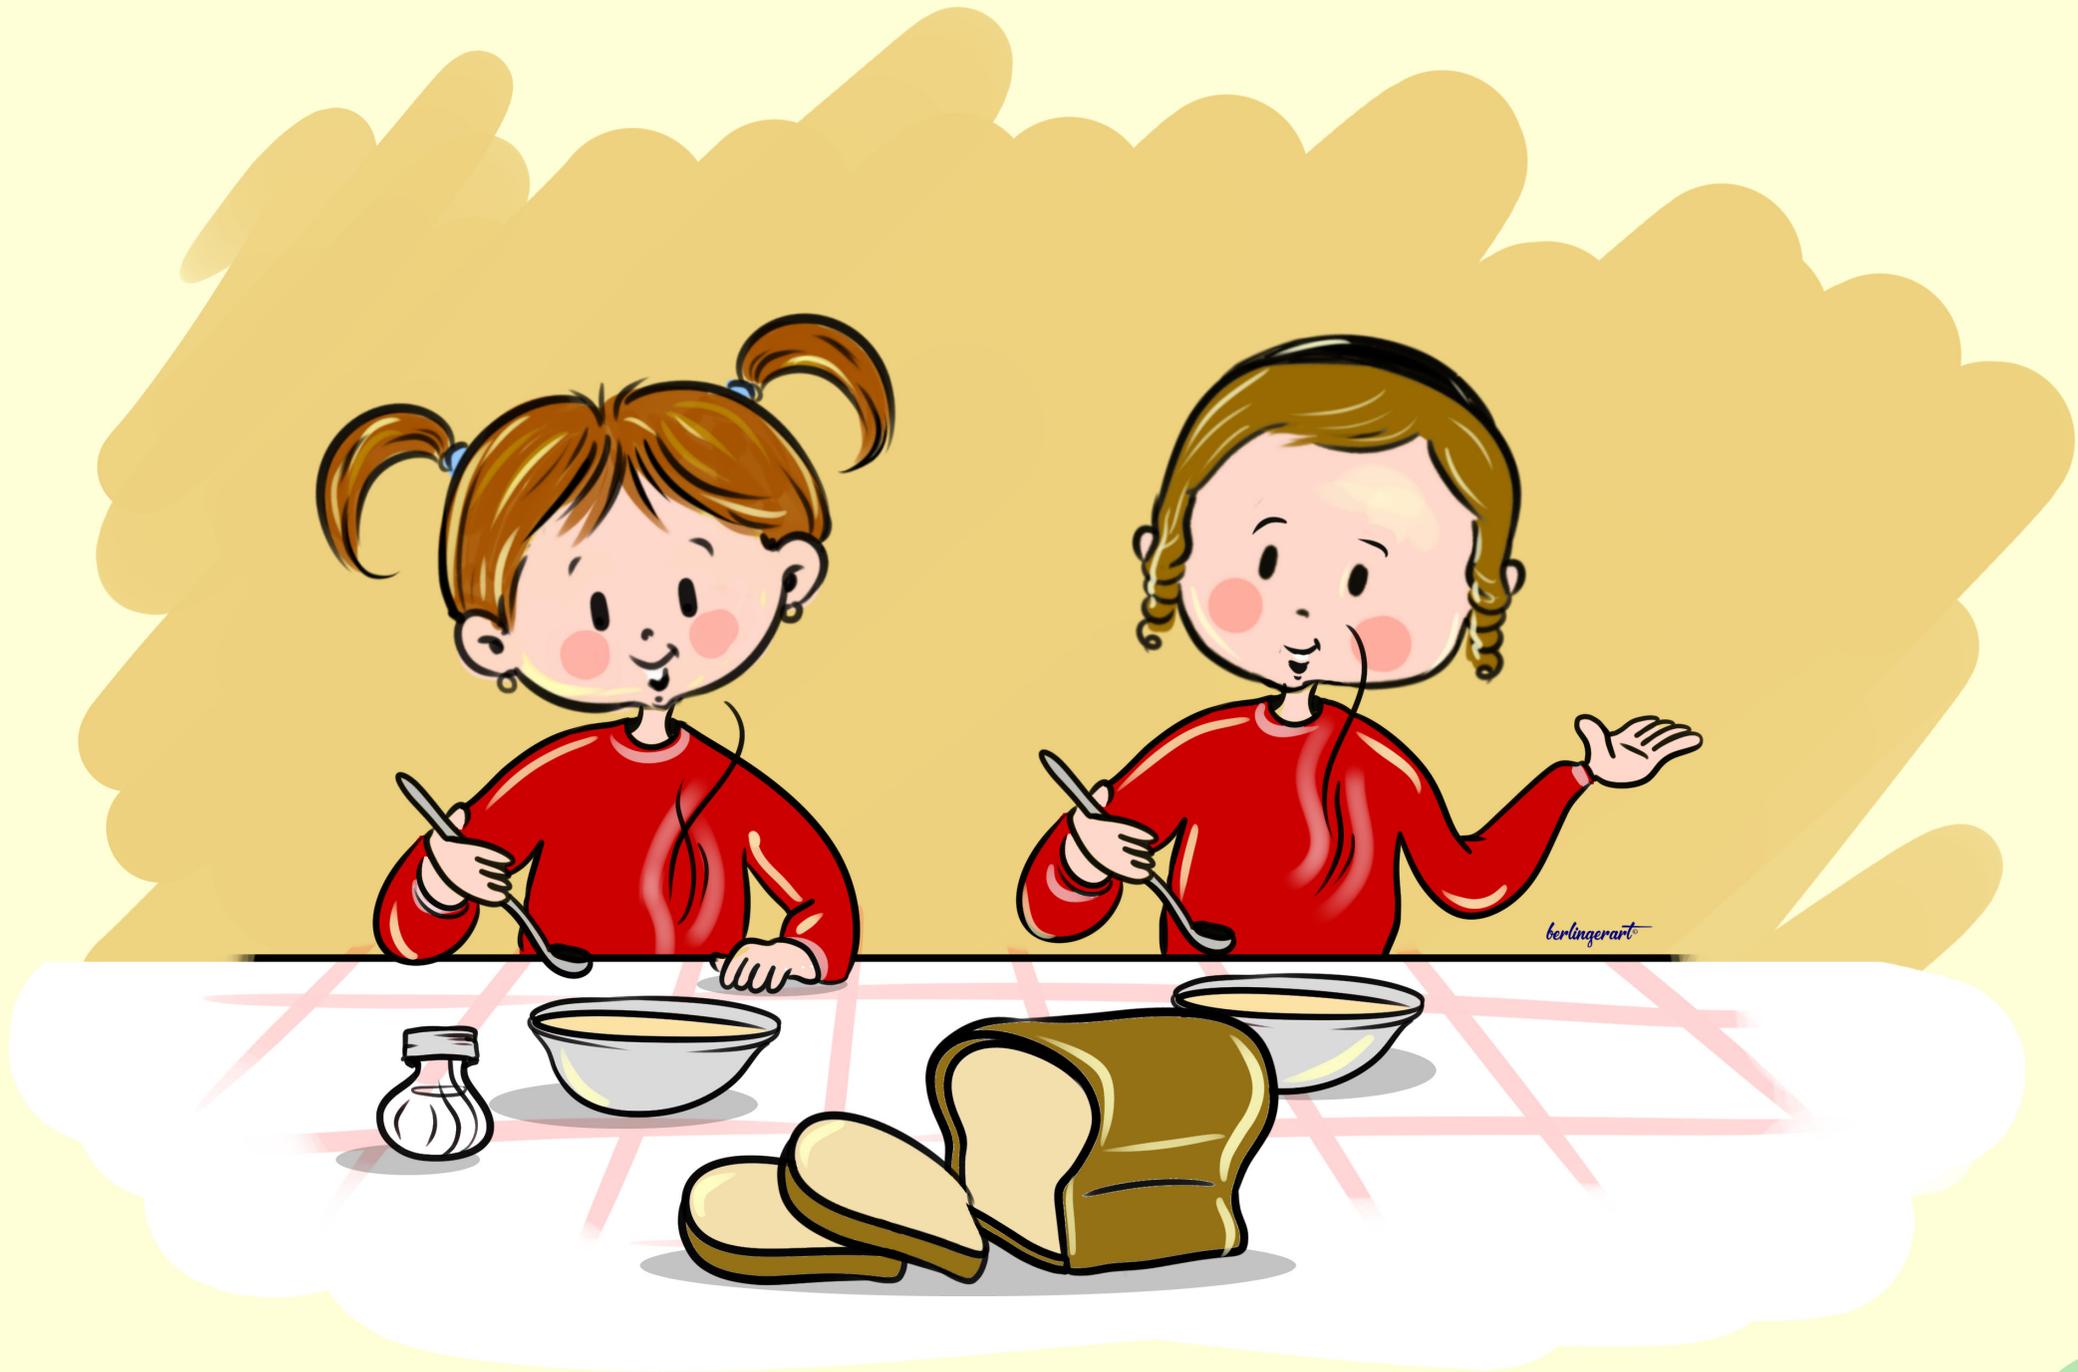

Miri laughed. “Maybe we can be grateful for the beautiful sunshine today so we can play outside in the garden.”

berlangerat

Mummy and Tatty joined the project too. Everyone was busy trying to find three good things each day. The first day it took some time, but by the end of the week there were just too many things to write.

On Thursday during supper Mummy asked, “Do you know what I am most grateful for? Having the most grateful children in the world!” Zevi and Miri smiled.

Questions:

1. What happens when someone loses their job?

2. Is it hard for Rifky that her father lost his job?

3. What project do they start and how does it work?

Activity:

Start your own Project Ki-Tov and watch your happiness grow!

Project Ki-Tov – Things I am grateful for today:

Sunday _____

Monday _____

Tuesday _____

Wednesday _____

Thursday _____

Friday _____

Shabbos Kodesh (to be filled in on Motzei Shabbos)

Well done!

